Further details

I live near to the pheasant inn and this is one of the local pubs that actually bothers with the community and all occasions from Halloween to Christmas and even during the six weeks holidays for the children even the island has become a big thing for local residents and any special event is looked forward to by all just to see what the owners have in store for us. It is a friendly pub run by the best owners very friendly and approachable. They have turned this pub around and the pub has a much nicer reputation than it's ever had.. Save this pub such a shame for this it is not a public nuisance at all..
